

ALA Annual Conference 2008
ACRL/AAMES Program

Global Scholarly Communication: International Access and Accessibility

Saturday, June 28, 2008

Welcome and Introductions (1:30pm)

Jim Cogswell, Director of Libraries, University of Missouri

Panel of Presenters (1:45pm)

Ann Okerson, Associate University Librarian, Yale University
Overview of Global Scholarly Communication Issues

Cui Meng, Director, Institute of Information, China Academy of Chinese Medicine, China
Development of a Data Sharing System for Traditional Chinese Medicine

Hong Cheng, Chinese Studies Librarian, UCLA
Two-Way Scholarly Communication between the United States and China [Outlines]

Deepa Banerjee, South Asian Studies Librarian, University of Washington
Scholarly Communication and International Access in India and South Asia [PowerPoint]

Eunkyung Kwon, Director of the University Library, Daegu University, Korea
Scholarly Communication and International Access in Korea [Fulltext]

Elizabeth Kiondo, Secretary-General, UNESCO National Commission, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania
Scholarly Communication and International Access in Sub-Saharan Africa

Panel of Reactors (3:00pm)

Ruby Bell-Gam, Librarian for African Studies & International Development Studies, UCLA
Comments on Professor Elizabeth Kiondo's Presentation

Joy Kim, Curator, Korean Heritage Library, University of Southern California
Comments on Dr. Eunkyung Kwon's Presentation

Anchi Hoh, Special Assistant to Chief of Asian Division, Library of Congress
General Comments on Presentations

Questions/Comments from the Audience (3:30pm)

Closing Remarks (4:00pm)

Jim Cogswell, Director of Libraries, University of Missouri